1. Recommendation for Students

The analysis of this undergraduate thesis is limited. Therefore, the researcher suggests the students of English Department who are interested in pragmatic field especially about deictic expression, this study may use as a reference to understand deicitic expression and how it is applied in the daily life.

2. Recommendation for The Teachers

The researcher hopes that this study can be as the authentic material for the teacher especially for the English teacher in their teaching.

3. Recommendation for The Next Researchers

The researcher hopes for other researcher who will conduct study in pragmatics fields to take analysis about the use of deixis in spoken language or written language. On the other hand, they may analyze the use of deixis in language not only in the movie, but also in another object, which may be used as the object of the research.
