

Chapter V

3 Conclusion

Based on the results obtained after researching, it can be concluded that misplacement word stress have correlation or relation with mother tongue to non-native speaker. It was proven by the analysis and interview has been done. It also relate with the Brown (1980:160) theory about inter-lingual.

In the end of this research can contribute in teaching learning process in the class to non-native speaker who want to studied English .